

CITY TO FIGHT PROPOSED WATER RATE INCREASE

HALF MILLION TO WOOD FUND BY SOAP MAN

W. C. Proctor Admits He Advanced That Amount

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 26.—William C. Proctor, of Cincinnati, has advanced $500,000 to the campaign fund of Major General Leonard Wood, he testified today at the senate investigation into pre-convention presidential campaign financing.

Mr. Proctor said this advance was "more than the total contributions" to General Wood's campaign. He added that he had contributed $10,000.

Palmer's Fund $59,610.

Contributions to the fund for Attorney General Palmer's campaign for the Democratic nomination for President were placed at $59,610 by former representative C. C. Carlin of Virginia—his campaign manager.

The largest contributor was James McClurg Guffey, of Pittsburgh, who gave $10,000 and who was identified as an oil man and prominent in Democratic politics in Pennsylvania. Former Federal Judge J. Harry Covington, treasurer of the Palmer organization, gave $2,000, Mr. Carlin said.

The witness said he knew nothing in detail about the men named in his list of contributors.

"Who does then?" demanded the chairman.

"Mr. Covington is treasurer," the witness replied.

Committee members sought to get details about the Pennsylvania party fight over the Palmer candidacy. Mr. Carlin said he had not participated.

"Let me tell you something, not in a personal way," said Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri. "This committee has had too many who have no information about things like this."

Crocker Gave $2,500.

Frank L. Crocker of New York, gave $2,500, according to the statement.

"This man Covington was formerly a federal judge and resigned to go with the alien property custodian's office when Mr. Palmer had that office, wasn't he?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"I don't know exactly," was the reply.

LETTERS PROVE VON BERNSTORFF BOOSTED HOUSE

Wrote Foreign Office Colonel Was Very "Deserving"

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, May 25.—Col. E. M. House, was recommended to the German foreign office by Count Von Bernstorff, then German ambassador in Washington, when House made his second trip to Europe early in 1916 as President Wilson's personal representative, according to letters from the ambassador to Gottlieb Von Jagow at that time foreign secretary. These letters have been published here with other documents presented before the parliamentary investigating committee which recently inquired into President Wilson's peace proposals during the war.

"Viewed from the local standpoint," Count Von Bernstorff wrote on Nov. 23, 1915, on the eve of the colonel's departure, "the mission of Col. House appears to me desirable, especially as the United States is so poorly represented in Berlin. Col. House is wholly neutral, very discreet and deserving."

A letter from Dr. Solf, minister of colonies to Dr. Von Jagow quoted Mr. House as describing Viscount Grey then British secretary of state for foreign affairs as the "most tractable English statesman." It was said he declared Viscount Grey was "ready to negotiate and his imminent retirement from the British cabinet would not only be undesirable but liable to prove fatal to Germany."

Col. House was alleged to have told Dr. Solf there was a strong anti-American feeling in England at that time and that "Germany was not aware of the extent to which unfriendly notes were being exchanged between Washington and London."

A letter from Baron Von Der Lancken, German governor of Brussels to Count Montenegro, briefly reported a conversation the former had with Brund Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, in January, 1916, after Mr. Whitlock's return from the United States. The American minister was reported to have said President Wilson had assured him in a confidential talk he was "no sworn foe of Germany" and that "on the contrary the destruction or political weakening of Germany would not be to the interest of the United States."

PART OF LEVER ACT INVALID IS JUDGE'S RULING

Finds for Miners in Some of Their Contentions

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, May 26.—Three sections of the Lever act were held unconstitutional by United States District Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court today and quashed 12 of the 18 counts of the indictment against miners and operators based on these sections in ruling on the motion of Charles E. Hughes to quash the indictment.

Counts 1, 2, 3, 4 and 17, based on Section 9 of the Lever law, which the court held valid, were declared operative and were not quashed by the judge.

The twelve counts in the indictment 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16 and 18, based on Sections 4, 26, and amended Section 4 of the Lever act were quashed.

The motion to quash the indictment was made by Charles Evans Hughes, former justice of the supreme court, on behalf of the miners May 7.

Count 15 of the indictment, based on Section 37 of the criminal code, also was quashed.

The motion by Mr. Hughes challenged the constitutionality of the Lever act principally on the ground that it is vague and indefinite and does not contain sufficient penalty provisions. The sufficiency of the indictment also was challenged on the ground that the coal business during the time covered by the indictment was governed under rules promulgated by President Wilson.

In handing down his ruling on the sections of the Lever law affected by the indictment, Judge Anderson took each of the sections up separately.

EXPECT EVERY MAN IN DIXON TO ASSIST IN WORK TOMORROW

Cleaning Up of Island is Bit of Community Necessity

Providing that there is no radical change in the weather it is expected that there will be more than 500 men on the city island tomorrow before 12 o'clock, each armed with an ax, rake, scythe or fork and going at top speed to clean up the park site. Everything is in readiness for the work to proceed undisturbed and while there is no intention to clean up the whole island, the committee desires to make as much progress as possible. The first workers, many of whom will spend the entire day on the island, will start about 8:30 in the morning.

The tractors and trucks will be taken to the island this evening on the Andrus ferry which has been towed down the river for the purpose of hauling over the heavier equipment. The launches will be available early in the morning to transport workers. The committee wishes to call especial attention to the importance of bringing tools with which to carry on the work, and every person is urged to bring an ax, rake, scythe, lawn mower or any tool that can be used in this work.

All business and professional men will close their offices and places of business at 11:30 and assist in the work on the island for the remainder of the day. It is a community movement and is one that has not been taken by any other city. At the time of the clean up of Lowell park some years ago, Dixon won no end of advertising for its public spiritedness and municipal publications all over the country referred to it. It is hoped that the island project will be carried out with equal enthusiasm and a great deal of good can be accomplished in this way.

Barber shops will close at 11:30 o'clock and pool rooms will close from 2 to 5.

Car For Workers

Chairman L. E. Jacobsen of the island clean up committee, announced at noon today that a street car would be stationed at the south approach to the Galena avenue bridge tomorrow at 11:30 for the purpose of taking workers to the Assembly Park, where they may board launches for the island. The car will make at least two trips hauling the workers to the north side dock. Other workers may leave from the Esby and Coe dock on East River street.

WATER COMPANY AGAIN ASKS TO RAISE CHARGES

Petition Filed Recently With Utilities Commission

The Dixon Water company has applied to the State Public Utilities commission of this state for permission to again increase the rates now in force for water furnished the public and to private consumers of water in this city. Notices to this effect have been mailed out to patrons of the company. According to the circular letter the increase has become necessary in order that sufficient revenue may be obtained to pay current cost of operation of the system, to provide a fund to make extensions recently ordered installed by the city, and to yield a proper return to the stockholders of the company.

The circular calls attention to the price that is being paid for labor and the increased cost of coal and sets forth the claim that Dixon is furnishing an excellent quality of water at a rate that is much less than is charged in other cities of similar size in this state. In the appeal to the commission, the water company will ask that the free service to the schools and to the city be eliminated.

Monetary Problems

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Mexico City, May 26.—Proposals for the importation of United States paper and metal currency for the purpose of solving Mexico's monetary problems have been approved by the American Chamber of Commerce, according to announcement last night. They are being considered by the confederation 42 chambers of commerce in Mexico. The short stock of currency has for more than a year been restricting business and commerce and hampering development of the country. It is understood the provisional government has proposed that the confederation finance a new issue of paper currency, but the confederation is unwilling. Should the new government accept American paper currency, it is believed the Mexican monetary problem can be solved in short order.

PURCHASE OF PLANT URGED BY CITY DADS

Com. Palmer Says Co. is "Thorn in the Flesh"

A perfectly peaceful session of the city council was the outlook early last evening, but after that body had completed its brief program of business all were taken completely by surprise at an announcement made by attorneys for the Dixon Water company, that the company is petitioning for increased rates. Attorneys Henry S. Dixon and Henry C. Warner for the company and its secretary George Hawley, appeared before the council and explained that the state public utilities commission had been requested to grant an increased rate to the Dixon Water company, the rate to become effective July 1, if the prayer of the petition is allowed by the commission.

This, however, was not the part of the proposed rate increase which had the greatest effect upon the council members. The annual appropriation ordinance had been presented and passed, providing a sum of $7,000 to be set aside for the payment of hydrant rentals. This amount is in excess of the amount previously appropriated due to the fact that there are more hydrants than before. The water company seeks to place a rental of $50 on each hydrant in the city which would amount to $16,160, according to the figures given out at the city hall this morning. The proposed action of the company, as stated at the city hall, would do away entirely with all free service. The city hall, public schools and drinking fountains would be metered and all former free service eliminated.

There In The Flesh

Commissioner Frank D. Palmer expressed himself as being strongly in favor of purchasing the plant as soon as possible and in this connection said, "If the water company has a right to utterly disregard the franchise it has with the city what power have we to enforce such a franchise? The city has the right by law to levy an additional tax of two-thirds per cent for a period of not to exceed 30 years, this money to be used in the purchase and maintenance of a water works plant. The legal department of the city has been notified to begin work at once toward putting this new law into effect in Dixon if necessary. I, for one, strongly advocate the purchase of the water works. It has been a thorn in the flesh for a long time."

City Will Fight; Mayor

Mayor Smith was sternly opposed to the petition of the water company and said:

"The previous action of the water company has not made Dixon citizens friendly toward them, and now the company again comes forward and asks for another increase over the meter charge, which amounts to about 70 per cent. I, for one, am against any such an increase and the city will fight the granting of the petition to the finish."

"I believe that some plan can be arrived at whereby the city can finance the water works proposition, and if this can be done, I am in favor of the city owning and conducting this business. By the contents of the petition, the water company entirely eliminates any free service and even the drinking fountains are asked to be metered. At present the hydrant rental amounts to about $32 or thereabouts per year, and they now ask approximately $80. I believe in any firm or corporation receiving a fair return on their investment but am opposed to a 70 per cent increase and will fight it to the end."

May Corn Continues Drop; Others Rallied

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 26.—Although prices for May delivery of corn showed a downward trend today, strength continued to develop in the more active options, July and September. Weakness of May was due to a trade ruling that because of the breakdown of railroad transportation no penalty would be enacted from defaulters on May contracts. Persistent meagerness of receipts formed the chief bullish factor as to the market otherwise. Initial quotations, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, advanced, with July 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and September 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, were followed by a moderate set back for May and a decided gain for later months. Commission houses buying made oats firm. After opening unchanged to 1/2c lower, the market scored a general upturn. Provisions were inclined to harden with grain and hogs. Demand, though was not urgent.

Scarcity of offerings later and statements by Herbert Hoover regarding the prospective food situation led to uneasiness on the part shorts, July in particular bulged, and May also advanced. The close was strong, 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 net higher with July 1.69 1/2 to 1.69 1/2 and September 1.57 1/2 to 1.57 1/2.

HARVEY O'MALLEY—

With nuptial mass, the marriage of Miss Frances Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Harvey, of Amboy, and Mr. Joseph O'Malley, the son of Mrs. Anna O'Malley, of Walton, was solemnized this morning at 8 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Amboy. Rev. T. J. Cullen was the celebrant. The attendants were Miss Alice Harvey, the bride's sister, and Frank Brechon. Preceding the ceremony Miss Kehos rendered a vocal number.

The bride was attractively gowned in flesh-colored Georgette over white Charmeuse and carried pink and white carnations. The maid of honor wore apricot Georgette and also carried carnations in white and pink. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home to the wedding party and immediate relatives of both the bride and groom. The table decorations were in pink and white and carnations were used as the flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Malley left shortly after the breakfast on a brief wedding trip. They will be at home after June 5th on the farm owned by the groom's mother, south of Dixon. Mrs. O'Malley wore for the trip a navy blue suit with high collar and cuffs.

Reducing Operations in Textile Industry

New York, May 26.—Bankers and commission agents in the wholesale dry goods district today confirmed reports of further reductions of operations in the textile industry, the silk trade again being most affected. Cancellation of orders continued in heavy volume, it is said, despite the efforts of converters and jobbers to allay apprehensions. Loans to manufacturers here and in New England show steady contraction. It is said that banks in this country are not directly concerned in the financial collapse reported from Japan. American financial position of American silk and cotton manufacturers is said to be strong for the most part.

There has been heavy buying of domestic silks at greatly reduced prices by retailers who feature their wears in their price cutting sales.

Congress' Attitude on Mandate Subject of British Comment

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, May 26.—Cabled reports that there is no chance of the United States congress acting upon President Wilson's recommendation for an American mandate for Armenia, accepted by the Chronicle, which is generally supposed to reflect Premier Lloyd George's opinion. "It is a pity because the United States would make an ideal mandatory," says the newspaper. "The effort would have taxed her strength but little and its value to humanity would have been out of all proportion to the cost."

Urging the necessity of some mandatory in Armenia without delay the Chronicle asks what nation will do this and asks: "who but America can?" The Daily News in commenting on the situation says: "Whatever should be the outcome of Mr. Wilson's invitation to congress, the warmest satisfaction is felt here regarding his personal attitude."

Railroads Would Like Honest Work

Mr. Whittier finished his whole statement today and tomorrow the labor side will start rebuttal.

The Order of Railroad Trainmen will make the first reply. They will be represented by W. N. Doak, vice president of the order. The other organizations will follow Mr. Doak. In the meantime opportunity will be given for the railroads to be heard in rebuttal.

Delay Action on Mandate Request
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 26.—The meeting of the House foreign affairs committee called to consider President Wilson's request that he be authorized to accept a mandate over Armenia, was postponed today because of the inability of Secretary Cully to attend. No date was announced for the hearing.

Republican members of the committee said they were particularly anxious to get Mr. Cully's views before reporting though they were outspoken in their opposition to the mandate, and declared the president's request would be refused. It is the plan of the leaders to have the house act first so as to make consideration by the senate unnecessary.

Lowden-Thompson Fight to Big Meet

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., May 26.—The fight being waged for leadership of the Republican party in Illinois by Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, and Governor Frank O. Lowden will not end with the mayor's victory last night in naming Congressman Frank L. Smith state chairman, party politicians predicted today. The next contest, it is said, will be in Chicago at the time of the national convention; when Mayor Thompson will be a candidate for re-election as national committeeman and Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, representing the Lowden faction down-state, will also seek the office.

Mayor Thompson's victory in the state committee meeting last night was complete. He succeeded in organizing the committee against the expressed wishes of Governor Lowden that organization be postponed until after the state primary in September. He also elected his candidates for state chairman, Congressman Smith, and for state secretary, Harry B. Ward of Duquoin.

A test vote was taken on a resolution offered by Judge Adam C. Cliffe of Sycamore to postpone organization until September. The mayor's forces mustered 15 votes to 10 cast by the Lowden faction.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers and Phillip Murray, vice president, to appear in court at Indianapolis at this "critical moment" was declared "contrary to the wishes of high government officials" and ample proof of the necessity of having federal judges elected by the people for a term not exceeding six years in a resolution unanimously adopted here today by the reconvened tri-district convention of anthracite mine workers.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

When a drawer insists on creaking every time it is opened or shut try rubbing the edges with hard soap. Soap has the effect of waxing and oiling together. Plain greasing seldom stops a creaking drawer. The wood absorbs all the oil, leaving none on the surface to counteract the friction of the woods.

Floor wax may be used but is never at hand as is plain hard soap.

Corn beef hash is the most delicious hash made. BATTERY SOLUTION SHOULD COVER THE PLATES AT ALL TIMES

Local Vesta Dealer Tells of Harmful Effects of Allowing the Battery to go Dry

"If a battery is allowed to go for any length of time without having the plates fully covered with the electrolyte (water and acid) its usefulness will be impaired seriously, if it is not entirely ruined," said the manager at the Wilson Auto Co. garage, of the Vesta Battery Service Station.

The reason for this, according to the manager, is the formation of sulphate of lead on the plates when left exposed to the air. This sulphate of lead is a non-conductor of electricity and acts as insulator to prevent the flow of current.

If the acid is allowed to get low in the battery so that only part of the plate is covered the remainder soon becomes coated so that when the battery is filled it does not function as powerfully as before.

Where the coating is not too heavy a long slow charge will dissolve it and save the battery.

A heavy rate of charge would cause overheating and ruin the battery.

Some car owners cannot understand why it sometimes takes four or five days to charge a battery. Heavy sulphation is the reason. The motorist should not complain if it takes longer than he expected to get the battery in shape, for the service man is having to work just that much harder to save the battery.

The manager says the Vesta station is always ready to fill your battery with distilled water free of charge, no matter what make it is. This little attention will often save needless expense and delay due to injured batteries.

GOING IT TOO HARD?

Overwork, worry, overeating and lack of exercise and sleep are responsible for much kidney trouble. If your back aches and the kidneys seem weak, rest up and use Doan's Kidney Pills.

O. P. Smith, plasterer & contractor, 917 Centre Ave., Dixon, says: "Kidney trouble has been in my family and I believe I inherited it, as I was more or less afflicted with it for years. Hard work made the trouble worse. I suffered a lot from lame back at times and had a sort of dull, nagging pain across my back, just over my kidneys. My kidneys didn't act regularly and the secretions were sometimes too frequent in passage and then again scanty."

I used Doan's Kidney Pills which I bought at Prescott & Schildberg's Drug Store, and one box soon relieved the backache and regulated my kidneys. Of late, I have had no need of a kidney medicine and I gladly recommend Doan's in return for the benefit they have brought me."

WHAT SCOUTING IS

The Boy Scout movement is now much more than a movement. It is a great moral force that is steadily at work in every state in the Union, to say nothing of the growth in other lands.

For 10 years the idea has been gaining ground until now there are over 275,000 Boy Scouts, 22,500 clean men serving as scoutmasters, and nearly 63,000 other men acting as troop councillors and committeemen.

"Scouting," the tenth annual report says, "is the process of making real men out of real boys by a real program, which works. It is outdoor life, and so health, strength, happiness and practical education."

By it and through it character is developed, boys are helped, and good citizenship is insured. The boy that follows the scouts can't go far wrong.
The natural "gang" spirit of the boy is cultivated under proper restraint.
And the Boy Scout movement is so broad that it is made up of all classes
and all creeds, a certain positive, active force for good.

COLOR BLINDNESS

A color-blind man can't distinguish colors. But what does he really see?
Nobody knew until a man was found
who was color-blind in one eye only.
Red and green things that he saw correctly with his normal eye were both yellow to the other. This man was "green blind." The "red blind"
also fail to distinguish red and green,
but with them red looks black and green looks gray.

The "totally color-blind" are "blind"
to every color except white and black
and the shades of gray between them.
To such persons common, un-colored photographs and the common pictures on a movie screen are the very color of the originals.

About 4 per cent of people are more or less color-blind. But the failing is far more common amongst men than amongst women; for it is inherited in a curious way. Color-blind men married to normal women do not transmit it to their sons—the latter and their offspring are perfectly normal. But they do transmit it to their grandsons through their daughters—much as they might transmit a heavy beard—
though the daughters themselves do not have it unless they get the tendency through their mothers also.

Inherited color-blindness is, of course, incurable. Exercises to overcome it are entirely useless. And rigid tests are very necessary for railroad employees and others who have to recognize color signals. In all such tests
the two eyes should be examined separately.

MAKING LOVE

"Making love" is a problem to hundreds of thousands of sterling young men and women. There are a great many young women who have no homes to which they can invite their men friends. There are a great number of young men who have no means of meeting desirable young women.
Some may scoff at that. But those are strict truths.

All have not good homes. Many,
many young women, especially in the cities, have little more than a room in which to live. Being self-respecting,
they can hardly invite their men
friends there, no matter how upright and worthy both might be. Dame Grundy is a person who "slips a nasty tongue." As a matter of fact, though, men who are really interested in women, whose interest would lead to marriage, seldom care much or long for girls who invite them up to their rooms.

But courting is going to go on,

BRINGING UP FATHER.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Berton

The Queen Departs

As Nancy and Nick brushed the little black velvet bug, who called herself Queen Avis, the dust flew like smoke. "My, you're as dusty as a moth-miller!" exclaimed Nick. "It must be the flower-pollen off the blossoms."

"Pollen-flour," corrected the queen, buzzing her wings stubbornly. And the rumpus started all over again until Rubadub had to settle it. "Same thing! Same thing!" he exclaimed, convincingly. But Queen Avis had to have the last word. "Don't you make bread out of flour? Well, bee-bread is made of it, too!" she said.

"There!" cried Nancy, shivering again. "I thought you were a bee all the time."

"Who said I was a bee?" buzzed Queen Avis. There was no answer to this, for certainly no one had.

"The next time, I'll keep my cloak clean," went on the Queen. "I'll send some of my workers after the stuff."

"Workers?" Nick was quick to say this time. "That's like bees, too! Bees have workers!"

"Bees! Bees! Always bees!" declared the Queen. "You must have bees in your head, you talk of them so much. Anyway, aren't bees all right?"

"Oh, certainly!" Everyone was agreed upon that. Only—

"Now," said the Queen, "if you're sure the swallow there it was her turn to shiver isn't snooping around the gate waiting for me, I'll take my bags and basket and be going."

But when Nancy brought the things, she noticed something. "There are some little sharp things in here," she said. "Are they stingers?" she wanted to know.

"Just needles! That's my sewing bag," answered the queen.

"Just needles! That's my sewing bag," answered the queen. "Now for my flower-bag and honey-basket, and I'm off to the Land-Where-Spring-is-Coming. Good bye!" and she buzzed out of the gate of Scrub-up Land. But she called back with a curious little smile. "I've got two names, Queen Avis is one, and Queen Bee is the other. Good bye again, little ones."

somehow. Young people are going to meet. At times perhaps, less desirable matches will be made, lacking proper environment. But they will be made. That brings one to "spooning in the parks." If there's no "parlor" handy for "him and her"—well, there's a seat for two on the park bench. And with the moon too full to notice, perhaps the point will be taken out of the adage that all matches are made in Heaven.

If society will not solve the courting problem for a great army of young folks, young folks will try to solve it for themselves — and let one hope, happily.

AND A LITTLE CHILD

Of all things that have been tossed about, twisted around and generally scrambled up, consider the famous "eternal triangle."

Between the use of that expression in connection with divorce cases, shooting scrapes and what-nots the world has lost sight of a real world while place to tack it on properly.

For this little portion of today's happy thought we will have to borrow one husband, one wife and one little youngster from our audience—the world at large.

We will take the three and enclose them in one little home. Passing the hand of fate gently over our trio—what have we?

The REAL "Eternal Triangle."

Maybe this is magic. We make no claims!

But the "trick"—if we must call it such—is accomplished and we defy anyone to produce a better and surer "eternal triangle."

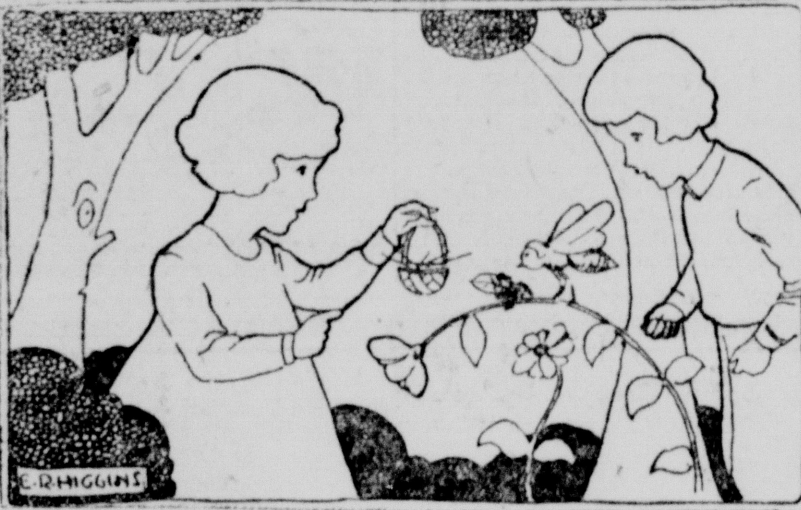

You will notice in life's program that this act is under the title of "And a Little Child Shall Lead Them."

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"Nothing doing!" Travers repeated, as he climbed into the seat beside me so that we could discuss our dilemma without being overheard. "The natives positively refuse to dig today, Mrs. Lorimer. That scamp, Jose, doesn't want us to unearth his master. He's out for power himself in a new regime."

"Something's doing, just the same," I said. "Tell Don Jose not to let the crowd follow us. Then please come with me!"

"The bell tower of the old church had fallen, but the strong round tower at the corner of the secret chamber which had been built originally for defense, was standing. Its steps were clogged with debris, but I led the way up them, retraced the path I had once taken over the roof, and descended the narrow stairway to the secret room. The door at the foot of the steps was shut tight. The panel had been fixed fast by the earthquake shock, Travers said, and he left me to summon Don Jose to help him batter it down."

I knocked on the door and called to my husband while Travers was gone. A flat echo was my only answer.

My heart stood still as the men pounded at the door. Anything might have happened in that room. I railed at a perverse fate which had locked Bob and Certels—the two men who loved me—behind that stubborn door.

When the door fell, Travers stepped into the opening and barred the way with his body. He stood quietly as if to shield me from a terrible sight, then he took off his hat.

Don Jose, standing behind him, took off his hat also. I shuddered and pushed forward shrieking:

"Bob! Bob! Let me see my husband!"

Travers put a supporting hand under my arm, as I pushed past him into the room and saw two forms stretched on the floor. Donna Camilla's body was covered with a satin blanket taken from one of the divans. Bob looked as if he had fainted. I rushed to my husband's side. Travers knelt by the woman, made a swift investigation and pronounced one word:

"Dead!"

"I heard it and thought that Travers was applying it to Bob as well as to that dreadful creature. And I watched Travers without hope as he stooped over the still form of my husband. Don Jose stooped close to Travers. There was a wicked smile on his handsome face, a smile which had a gleam of triumph in it."

It occurred to me for the first time that Certels and Don Manuel were not to be seen! Don Jose had reason to smile! Fate had made him master of the hacienda!

But of course that didn't matter. Nothing would ever matter to me again. I could tell from Travers' face.

"You are a brave woman, Mrs. Lorimer, I know. Pull yourself together. Can you stand good news? Your husband still lives! But—I am not sure—that I can keep him alive. We'll nurse him here—tonight. I dare not move him from this place, Mrs. Lorimer."

And then we remained in the midst of a hostile people, served by the hypocritical Don Jose.

Once more I had saved my husband's life.

"We'd better hurry back to God's country where you won't have to do it every fortnight," said Bob dryly when we were alone in our room at the hotel a few days later.

Travers had rushed us to town as speedily as possible in order that he might join in the search for survivors of the missing "Ione."

Neither he nor Spence approved my plan to let Bob at once about the loss of the yacht.

"Give your man another night's sleep, first," advised both doctors. Bob has such a dreadful capacity for suffering that I was glad to take their advice.

Lime is one of these, and milk is by all means the most efficient and economical way by which lime can be supplied to the body.

Children need lime to build bones and adults need it to keep their bones in good condition. Where milk does not enter into the diet there is usually a deficiency in lime.

For muscle building milk is quite as good as meat and is much more economical.

Skim-milk and buttermilk contain all the nutritive properties of the whole milk, with the exception of the fat. That is, they contain all the animal proteins that the whole milk contains, and milk protein is the most valuable form of protein food we possess. Milk, with cereals or with bread, constitutes not only a pleasing combination, but these combinations in themselves make a perfect food.

If the milk, even skim-milk, chances to sour, use it to make cottage cheese. One pound of cottage cheese is equivalent in nutritive value to 1½ pounds of beef.

Q.—Is there any way in which a person can tell whether or not she has a tapeworm? Are there doctor who specialize in such cases; if so, how can I find one?

A.—An examination of the stools will usually show whether a person has a tapeworm or not; especially if the examination is made with the aid of a microscope. Every qualified physician is able to prescribe treatment for this condition. If you fear you have a tapeworm, go at once to your family physician and have him advise you.

HERRERO'S BETRAYAL OF CARRANZA SHOWN DEEPEST TREACHERY

Escorted Victim to His Bed to Make Sure of His Death

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Mexico City, May 26.—Mexican officials and military officers who accompanied President Carranza in his flight into the mountains of Puebla were censured by General Alvaro Obregon yesterday. Asked to express his opinion regarding the death of the late chief executive, he said: "Among the generals and noted civilians accompanying Carranza to whom they owed infinite favors and consideration, there was not even one who wanted to die at his side."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Mexico City, May 26.—Formal investigation to clarify the part taken in the death of President Carranza, both by Colonel Rodolfo Herrero and members of the Carranza party is recommended by a commission of four named by General Obregon and Gonzales to inquire into the tragedy at Tlaxcalantongo.

The commission's report, which is the first authoritative story of the death of Carranza may be summarized as follows:

"Colonel Herrero joined the party at Puebla, State of Puebla on May 20 having promised to defend Carranza."

"When Carranza reached Tlaxcalantongo, he was led by Herrero to the hut where he was to sleep. Herrero was with Carranza when beds in this shelter were assigned to the President, his ministers and aides. Other members of the party were taken to other houses. Before retiring Carranza ordered Captain Suarez, one of his aides, to assist in placing sentinels, all of whom were Herrero's men."

"Herrero later told Carranza that a messenger had informed him his brother was injured, and left the village, promising to return. At 3 o'clock on the morning of May 21, three of Herrero's men entered the house, stating they had been ordered to report to him what the situation was. Carranza listened to them and then told them to leave. (The report says this move was probably for the purpose of ascertaining if all in the hut were in bed and whether Carranza had changed his position.)

Begged For Carbine

"Half an hour later, the hut was attacked from all sides."

"President Carranza was heard to cry: 'I can't get up; my leg is broken. He then begged for a carbine so that he would defend himself but was answered by a volley which ended his life instantly."

"The other occupants of the hut fled, as did those in the other shelters. Herrero captured many of the party. Four or five of these prisoners were forced to sign a statement that Carranza had committed suicide."

"These facts are alleged to prove a conspiracy was prepared in advance by Herrero which inspired confidence in him by Carranza and ended in the President's betrayal."

Others Held Prisoner

"Prisoners taken at Tlaxcalantongo following the death of Carranza will be held here until Adolfo De La Huerta, provisional president, takes office. Disposition of the men will be made by him, it is understood."

They are Generals Juan Baragan, Francisco Urquiza, Francisco Murguia and Francisco De P. Mariel, Manuel Aguirre, Bergana Ygnacio Bonillas and Luis Cabrera.

Better Instruments for Air Navigation

By Associated Press Leased Wire

St. Louis, May 26.—The need for more advanced aeronautic instruments in the development of aerial advancement was expressed in a paper at the spring session of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here today by Mayo D. Hersey, an engineer of Washington, D. C.

The safety and efficiency of air navigation depend on the reliability of the instruments, it was explained.

In addition, it said, the development of aeronautic engineering rests on the measurement of aircraft performance which requires instruments of precision.

Barographs and other recording instruments of better quality than now exists, a satisfactory form of compass, air speed indicators suitable for low speeds and gyro-stabilizer were mentioned as necessary.

According to Prof. Harvey
N. Davis of Harvard University

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cambridge, Mass., May 26.—A di-rigitable airship line to engage in regular passenger service between New York and San Francisco is a project in which War Department officials would like to interest capital, with a view to having an air fleet immediately available in case of war, according to Professor Harvey N. Davis, of Harvard university.

Professor Davis is engaged in expert
work on helium gas for the department, and is designing a plant to be built at Langley field, Va., where the expensive gas after use in the military lighter-than-air craft may be washed free of impurities and used again. Estimates by Colonel William N. Henley, of the War Department, indicate that it will be possible for passengers to go by airship overland at a cost of about 5 cents a mile, at a speed of 63
to 70 miles an hour.

"The advent of the airship as a regular passenger carrier is much nearer than many persons in this country realize," said Mr. Davis. "I shall be surprised if the coming summer does not see a line of airships in operation by an English firm between the United States and the British Isles and I have no doubt whatever that a year
from now will see regular weekly sailings."

"By the use of helium all danger of disaster from explosions such as have wrecked big balloons filled with hydrogen will be averted. There will be no fear of ignition of the gas by bullets,
lightning or sparks from the engine.
In fact, it is pointed out that the engines may be placed inside the outer shell of the dirigible, and that except for observation purposes no car need be carried outside the big bag."

While the present cost of producing helium is about ten times that of hydrogen, Professor Davis believes that development of its manufacture will result in a cheaper product. Helium will be used to furnish the lifting power in the $2,500,000 dirigible which the Navy Department expects to obtain from an English manufacturer soon.

Coming to the City

The annual cruise of the Blackhawk Canoe club of Rockford will be made to this city Monday. It has been the custom of the club to conduct these cruises annually for several years. Final plans for the get-no less than 25 men will make the trip. The first night will be spent at

Women Injured in Rome Demonstration

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rome, May 24.—(Delayed)—Excitement prevailed after a clash this afternoon between royal guards and students in which four guards and one student were killed and others wounded. Among the injured were two women. Students engaged in a demonstration celebrating the fifth anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war attempted to reach the Quirinal
to conduct a manifestation of loyalty
to the king.

It appears the trouble began when Socialists tried to break up a loyalty demonstration by students. The street fighting occurred later but witnesses have asserted none of the students engaged in the demonstration was armed.

R. A. DENNISON, of Los Angeles, owner and trainer of fine trotting horses, who says Tan-lae put him right back on his feet
again, after he had been in bad health for over a year. Declares he is feeling like his old self now.

"For the past year or more I have not been right physically; I just didn't feel good at all, but last April 22nd
I had an awful attack with my stomach which nearly drew me up and I have been worse ever since.

"About the best way I can describe the way I felt is to say I was just leg-weary and all in. I really did not have strength to keep going and I gave up all idea of trying to work.
For a long while I had no appetite
but would eat anyhow though my food never seemed to do me any good.

"I would go to bed at night and would sleep but apparently did not rest for I would get up just as tired as when I went to bed. I got so I could scarcely go a block but what I would have to stop and rest.

"Well, I read about Tanlae one day and that reminded me that a friend

had spoken about the same medicine, so I got some and began to take it. I had been taking it about a week when one evening, after supper, I started to walk and before I realized it I had walked up to First Street and back, about 14 blocks, and never felt it at all and then I realized that the tonic
was helping me.

"I have taken four bottles now and am just feeling real good again. I am able to be back at the Exposition Stock Yards every day and have just as much energy as I ever had. I get up refreshed in the mornings now and I have a real appetite which makes me enjoy three good square meals every day. Anyone who needs a good tonic will certainly be satisfied with Tanlae and I am glad to recommend it to my friends."

The above statement was made recently by R. A. Dennison, a well-known owner and trainer of fine trotting horses, residing at No. 214 East 8th St., Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Dennison has lived in California for 32 years; he is 63 years of age and has followed his present line of business for 30 years. He is well-known on the Pacific coast.

Tanlae is sold in Dixon by the Public Drug & Book Co. and by the leading druggists in every town.

Austrian Farmers'
Societies' Demands

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Vienna, May 26.—Appropriations aggregating 300,000,000 crowns have been voted by the government to meet demands by farmers for higher prices for grain. Peasants have agreed to the new prices but now ask the requisition of textiles, leather and other necessities which they hold should be sold only to agricultural societies, which in turn would dispose of them to private traders.

Big Value in Tires for
The Smaller Cars

Back of the manufacture of Goodyear Tires for the smaller cars is the same purpose to supply high value in the product that is behind the manufacture of the Goodyear Tires that equip the most expensive automobiles built.

This purpose is expressed by the enormous resources, extraordinary skill and scrupulous care applied to the manufacture of Goodyear Tires in the largest tire factory in the world devoted solely to the 30x3, 30x3½, and 31x4-inch sizes.

The effect of this endeavor is noted in the fact that last year more cars using these sizes
were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires
than with any other kind.

It is also noted in the fact that if you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other car requiring one of the sizes mentioned, you can secure Goodyear Tires and Goodyear
Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Goodyear Service Station.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure $23.50
Fabric, All-Weather Tread

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure $21.50
Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water. $4.50

I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to it.—Mrs. STAPLES, 157 B. How to RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and promptly cures white diarrhea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be refunded by return mail. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25c or 50c today for a package by mail postpaid. Purcell-Dugger Co., 555 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Dog's Character Saved Its Life

Omaha, Neb., May 26. — Character witness testimony in behalf of a dog was taken here recently before Judge Estelle in District court. City attorneys objected to the admission of such evidence but the judge ruled a dog has as much right to it as a human. The good character of the dog, which had bitten a girl, was thereupon established to the satisfaction of the court and he annulled the death sentence which had previously been passed upon the prisoner. "Dick" belonged to 12-year-old Mary Schwartz. One day he ran along near the case where the execution was being carried out. He did not, however, pass on the exonerating circumstances. Some youngsters in the store had stepped on Dick's tail. The Schwartz family had such confidence in the integrity of their dog that they opened their pocketbook and spent nearly $200 to save it. They secured an appeal and when the case came up before Judge Estelle they had 15 persons on hand to testify in the dog's behalf. The star witnesses for the defense came from the city pound where Dick had been confined since he got into trouble. W. W. Bradley, secretary of the Nebraska Humane Society, which has charge of the pound, testified to the good character and disposition of the prisoner. Pound Officer Peterson helped secure Dick's freedom when he testified that in contrast with the run of hobo dogs in the pound Dick had made an exemplary prisoner.

Ogle Moonshiners Held to Grand Jury

THE BARGAIN COUNTER

The four Rockford men arrested in a raid on a tent near Byron on the Medill McCormick farm Saturday afternoon by Sheriff George Banning and deputies from Ogle and Winnebago counties, were bound over to the grand jury under bonds of $1,000 each when arraigned in Oregon Monday and were returned to their cells because of their inability to provide bonds. The quartette composed of William Johnson, his two sons, Evar and Oscar and Henry Kling confessed their guilt and said the liquor mash was hauled in an automobile from the Johnson home in Rockford to the tent on the McCormick farm near Byron, where it was distilled. Deputies raided the home in Rockford and found a ten-gallon keg with a steel coil inside ready for operation. Besides this they found two 20 gallon jars of the liquor mash and eight quarts of alcohol.
